BIO

DON KHATAZA

Lawmas Majebe never picked the name Don Khataza. His fans gave it to him, after one too many freestyles that left a room in silence.

He raps over amapiano the way most people only rap over boom bap: bar-heavy, rhythm-first, with log drums underneath doing the shouting. The result sits somewhere between a cypher and a Friday night, and it is built for both.

The plan is simple. Don Khataza is here to move amapiano forward, one verse at a time.
